

EMU & ITU-TRNC COLLABORATIVE CERTIFICATE PROGRAM SOON TO BEGIN

The institutional collaboration between the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) and the İstanbul Technical University TRNC Education – Research Campus (ITU-TRNC) has strengthened with a new joint certificate program. The first steps towards bringing to life the joint certificate program of the two universities were taken on Tuesday, the 20th of February 2018 when a protocol was signed. On Wednesday, the 21st of March 2018, EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Necdet Osam and ITU-TRNC Rector Prof. Dr. Ercan Kahya attended a signature ceremony at the EMU Rector's Office where they signed the collaboration protocol which is the most important step regarding the "Project and Production Management Certificate Program" comprising of six modules. The said signature ceremony was attended by members of the press, EMU Vice Rector for Administrative and Technical Affairs Prof. Dr. Özgür Eren and ITU-TRNC Vice Rector Assoc. Prof. Dr. Serdar Kum.

"Our Collaboration Will Continue and Increase"

Speaking at the signature ceremony, EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Necdet Osam stated that he is very happy to be collaborating with an important institution like ITU, highlighting that the collaboration between the two universities will continue and increase. ITU-TRNC Rector Prof. Dr. Ercan Kahya stated that the academic and institutional collaboration with EMU has made them happy and that they are proud to be supporting the TRNC community and its economic development. Prof. Dr. Kahya also underlined his belief that their collaboration with EMU will continue and increase.

The Courses will be delivered at EMU

As a result of the protocol a "Project and Production Management Certificate Program" will be jointly run by the EMU and ITU-TRNC Continuing Education Centers. The envisaged 6 modules will be run by academic staff assigned by ITU-TRNC and EMU. Each university will assign academic staff for 3 modules. Students who successfully complete each module and pass an exam upon completion of all modules will earn a joint EMU and ITU-TRNC Project and Production Management Certificate. Upon the completion of each module students will also receive a certificate of achievement. The courses will be delivered at EMU classrooms however, if required ITU-TRNC classrooms will also be available for use. The joint certificate program protocol will be valid until the 31st of December 2018.

Further information about the EMU and ITU-TRNC Joint Certificate Program can be obtained from the EMU Continuing Education Centre via the phone number 630 2471.

EMU Atatürk Research and Application Center (ATAUM) academic staff members Assist. Prof. Dr. Turgay Bülent Gökürtk, EMU ATAUM member of the board and EMU Faculty of Law academic staff member Prof. Dr. Turgut Turhan and EMU ATAUM academic staff member Süheyla Gökürtk delivered presentations at the panel where students showed great interest.

"The Battle of Çanakkale Should Be Analyzed in Detail"

The panel which commenced with a Moment of Silence and National Anthem, continued with the presentation titled "Military and Political Aspects of Çanakkale Battle" delivered by EMU ATAUM academic staff member Assist. Prof. Dr. Turgay Bülent Gökürtk. During his speech, Gökürtk put emphasis on the significant place of Çanakkale Battle in the history of Republic of Turkey and especially stated that the battle shall be analyzed in detail and society shall take lessons from the Battle of Çanakkale. Assist. Prof. Dr. Gökürtk gave detailed information about the historical facts from Çanakkale Battle and underlined that the war led to Atatürk's birth as a respected soldier, statesman and a world leader.

Unknown Facts Regarding the Period of the Battle

EMUATAUM member of the board and Faculty of Law staff member Prof. Dr. Turgut Turhan delivered a presentation titled "Captive Balloons and Aeroplane Transporting Ships During the Battle of Çanakkale". In his speech, Turhan explained how captive balloons and aeroplane transporting ships affect the process of battles. Prof. Dr. Turhan stated that only a small number of people have knowledge on the fact that such kind of combat vehicles had been used during the Battle of Çanakkale.

The last speaker of the panel, EMU ATAUM academic staff member Süheyla Gökürtk also delivered a presentation on "Hinterland of Çanakkale Battle: Logistical Services". During her presentation which is in the archive of the Presidency of Turkish General Staff and which has recently been published, never seen photos of Çanakkale Battle were presented to the audience. Süheyla Gökürtk mentioned that logistic conditions play a vital role on the fate of all wars. Gökürtk stated that victory is not possible for troops fighting with enemy in battlefronts who are undernourished and lacking importance resources such as clothes, weapons and armory, even though they have superior and skillful leaders with well-directed commands. Logistic conditions and elements in the hinterland of Çanakkale Battle contributed the victory. Çanakkale and Martyrs' Memorial Program ended after the screening of a 10 minute documentary titled "Çanakkale Cannot Be Passed".

EMU HOSTED THE ONE OF MOST RENOWNED PROFESSORS OF CHEMISTRY IN TURKEY

Within the scope of the 6th International Career Week organised by the Eastern Mediterranean University Graduate Communications and Career Research Directorate in collaboration with faculty members and experts in EMU, EMU Arts and Sciences Faculty, Department of Physics and Chemistry hosted one of the most renowned professors of chemistry in Turkey, İstanbul Technical University, Chemistry Department faculty member Prof. Dr. Oğuz Okay.

Commencing with EMU Department of Physics and Chemistry Chair Prof. Dr. İzzet Sakallı's speech covering the biography of Prof. Dr. Oğuz Okay, the event continued with Prof. Dr. Okay's presentation titled "Science and Career". At the start of his speech, Prof. Dr. Okay defined the concept of career and stated that career is proceeding in life and becoming a professor does not mean building a career, as a career can be built in different fields. Prof. Dr. Okay also provided a definition of sciences and stated that science means focusing on a specific part of the universe, gathering information, making deductions and finding errors.

Putting forth that career is a distant walk, Prof. Okay recommended each and every postgraduate student to write a high quality scientific article, which would be published in the best journals in the literature. Touching upon the importance of career planning, Prof. Dr. Okay stated the necessity of studying at a respected university at a program which has medium of instruction other than Turkish.

During the second phase of his presentation, Prof. Dr. Okay talked about polymer projects of his own. Prof. Dr. Okay stated that chemical products may be prepared both by heating and cooling processes and cryogels yield good results in this respect. Cryogels have become a focal point for Prof. Dr. Okay's research group due to their porous structure, ease of preparation and large volume. Prof. Dr. Okay went on to talk about gels absorbing petrol and organic toxic material under the sea and recommended further research in these fields.

At the end of his speech, Prof. Dr. İzzet Sakallı thanked Prof. Dr. Oğuz Okay and presented a gift to him. The presentation had a very remarkable turnout of academicians and students.

Who is Prof. Dr. Oğuz Okay?

Prof. Dr. Oğuz Okay is a successful academician, professor of physical chemistry and polymer and, most importantly, a scientist who has environmental awareness. Born in İstanbul in 1955, he attended standard schools, as defined by him, falling outside his career plans. Having obtained his undergraduate and postgraduate degrees in chemistry engineering, he completed his second postgraduate degree in Vienna Technical University. In 1981, he obtained his doctoral degree in Vienna Technical University in the field of Macromolecular Chemistry. He gained his associate professorship in 1987 and his professorship degree in 1985 in Kocaeli University. Starting from 1988, Prof. Dr. Okay has been a faculty member in İstanbul Technical University and has successfully been carrying out research in the field of polymer chemistry with "Okay Research Group (<http://www.polymergellab.itu.edu.tr/>)".

As a prominent academician and researcher, Prof. Dr. Oğuz Okay has 4 patents, web of science h-index of 42, over 170 articles and numerous awards some of which are TÜBİTAK NATO Doctoral Fellowship (1977-1981), ALEXANDER VON HUMBOLDT Research Award (1998), TÜBİTAK Incentive Award (1990), Sedat Simavi Natural Sciences Award (1994), TÜBİTAK VAM Science Award (1995), Kocaeli University Science Award (1996), TÜBİTAK Science Award (2005), İTÜ Foundation Science Award (with D. Ceylan, 2007), Georg-Förster Research Award (Alexander Von Humboldt Foundation, 2014).

TOURISM EXPERT ŞERİF YENEN MEETS WITH STUDENTS AT EMU

Within the scope of the "6th International Career Week" organized by the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Graduate Relations and Career Research Directorate (MIKA) the EMU Tourism Faculty hosted tourism expert, travel writer and tourism guide Şerif Yenen.

Yenen shared his experiences in field with EMU tourism students during the conference title "New Inclinations in Tourism and the Role of Tourist Guides". Yenen emphasized that technology and the internet has led to many changes in people's lives and that these changes have affected tourist guides as well. Stating that changes will continue to take place Yenen noted that tourists now prefer being called 'travelers'. At the conference where attendance was significantly high, EMU Tourism Faculty Dean Prof. Dr. Hasan Kılıç presented Yenen a silver plaque of appreciation.

Who is Şerif Yenen?

Tourism expert, travel writer, tourism guide, film producer and speaker Şerif Yenen is the writer of the book "Turkish Odyssey" which is the first travel guide about Turkey written by someone who is Turkish. Şerif Yenen has delivered conferences on Turkey's history, culture and tourism to the academic community outside of Turkey. His travel guides are used as course material or source material in many universities. Yenen's articles and columns have been published in international journals and national newspapers respectively. He served as President of the İstanbul Chamber of Tourist Guides and the Turkish Union of Tourist Guides for approximately 13 years. He was a board member of the World Federation of Tourist Guide Associations for a period of 4 years.

EMU FACULTY OF COMMUNICATION HOSTS 4TH İLEDK EDUCATION WORKSHOP

Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) hosted the 4th Education Workshop with the Communication Training Evaluation and Accreditation Board (İLEDK) at the Rauf Raif Denктаş Culture and Congress Centre on Saturday, the 17th of March 2018. The workshop that took place between 10:00 – 18:00 was attended

İLEDK members and academicians of Turkish Cypriot universities.

Speaking at the opening of the workshop Prof. Dr. Aysel Aziz stated "This is a very important day as this is the first time the five faculties in the TRNC have come together". Stating that İLEDK is a non-governmental accreditation organization, Prof. Dr. Aziz noted that İLEDK aims to increase the quality of education programs in communication and related fields. "Our mission is to train well-educated and qualified communication professionals that embrace and understand current and developing communication technologies with the ultimate goal of a society with heightened awareness. There were different institutions that evaluated disciplines other than communication. We started talking about why there wasn't an institution for communication. In 2015, we met with Ankara University, İstanbul University and Adnan Menderes University representatives. We couldn't have done it without the support of their communication faculties. Therefore our accreditation process got underway. We submitted our application to the Council of Higher Education on the 14th of February 2017. The process was prolonged because of the structuring of the 'higher education quality council' however we became registered after a year." Prof. Dr. Aziz went on to indicate that they will initially be providing accreditation for undergraduate programs but that they will be carrying out work regarding associate degree and postgraduate programs as well.

At the end of the workshop, İLEDK Certificates of Participation were delivered by Communication Research Association (İLAD) President Prof. Dr. Aysel Aziz.

THE CHIMNEY HOUSE IN FAMAGUSTA'S OLD TOWN OPENS ITS DOORS FOR THE EMU DEPARTMENT OF INTERIOR ARCHITECTURE UPON COMPLETION OF ITS RESTORATION

The Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Faculty of Architecture, Department of Interior Architecture is celebrating its 20th year in the 2017-2018 Academic Year Spring Semester and recently held its Honour - High Honour Certificate Ceremony for successful students.

The said organization took place at the Chimney House located in the Famagusta's Old Town with "No to violence" and "Refunctioning" themed Warm-Up Project Presentations. It was a proud night for the EMU Department of Interior Architecture that always stresses the importance of re-opening un-used historical places and once again making them a part of our everyday lives as the Chimney House opened its doors to Interior Architecture students, parents, academic staff and members of the general public.

The aim of the ceremony was to present certificates to successful students of the Fall Semester as well as to allow ITAS 102 / FARC 102 / INAR 292 and ITAS 302 / INAR 391 / INAR 392 students to present their warm up projects designed with the aid of course instructors Assoc. Prof. Dr. Özlem Olgaç Türker, Assoc. Prof. Dr. Nil Paşaoğulları Şahin, Asst. Prof. Dr. Ahenk Yılğın Damgacı, Asst. Prof. Dr. Kamil Güley, Asst. Prof. Dr. Hacer Başarır, Academic Staff Seyit Ermiyağil, Cansu Denizhan ve Pınar Sabancı. The warm-up projects aimed to raise awareness about the previously mentioned themes "No to violence" and "Refunctioning".

The ceremony commenced with an opening speech delivered by EMU Department of Interior Architecture Chair Prof. Dr. Uğur Ulaş Dağlı. Prof. Dr. Dağlı stated that one of the primary missions of their department is bringing to life unused historical buildings. Noting that the department has completed many revival and sustenance projects in the Walled City, Prof. Dr. Dağlı added that they held this activity at the Chimney House because they felt responsible to bring life to the this building where restoration was recently completed. In a speech of his own, Faculty Dean Prof. Dr. Özgür Dinçyürek congratulated the Department of Interior Architecture and its students for this successful organization.

ATATÜRK VOCATIONAL HIGH SCHOOL STUDENTS VISIT EMU

Atatürk Vocational High School Typography Department students and their teachers visited the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) upon invitation from the School of Computing and Technology (SCT).

Atatürk Vocational High School students firstly attended an informative promotional seminar at EMU-SCT. After the seminar, students visited the university's press office, library and sports hall where they received further information.

During his promotional and informative talk, EMU-SCT Director Prof. Dr. Mustafa İlkan provided information about EMU and its academic achievements. Prof. Dr. İlkan drew attention to the criteria that students should consider when choosing a university advising that they always go for quality, hard work and achieving what's difficult. Touching upon the specifics of vocational education Prof. Dr. İlkan provided information about the opportunities provided for students studying at vocational high schools such as open admission and scholarship opportunities.

During the visit to the EMU Press Office, students received technical and occupational information. The program ended after lunch which was provided for students following the visits to the library and sports complex.

Bilal Akbayır (Form Teacher)

We are very happy to be at EMU. We were hosted well and we are very happy to hear that a Department of Typography is going to be founded. We are the only high school in the TRNC with a typography department. Because there isn't a university in the TRNC with a typography department our graduates had to go to Turkey or other countries to continue their education. To hear that EMU is going to set up a typography department will provide our students strength and motivation. Our students watched the work being carried out in EMU's printing office very carefully. We hope that the people working here in the future will be our students. This would make us very happy and satisfied.

Gürsoy Yağız Çiçekseven

I liked EMU's campus a lot. This was an informative trip for me. I was very satisfied with EMU and I am considering receiving my university education here.

Ece İlayda Korkmaz

I really liked EMU. It is a very good university at which I think we can receive a very good education. The university can contribute to our future careers. If EMU sets up a Department of Typography and job opportunities present themselves off course I would like to stay in the TRNC.

RECORD BREAKING COMEDY "SHEAR MADNESS" STAGED IN EMU

Taking place under the organisation of the Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Social and Cultural Activities Directorate, the longest-running theatre show of the United States of America "Shear Madness" was staged at Eastern

EMU TO CELEBRATE 54TH LIBRARY WEEK WITH A SERIES OF EVENTS

The Eastern Mediterranean University (EMU) Özay Oral Library is preparing to celebrate the 54th Library Week with a series of events. The 54th Library Week is going to be celebrated from the 26th of March to the 1st of April in the TRNC. EMU's Library Week events will commence on Monday, the 26th of March 2018 with a photography exhibition at the Library Exhibition Hall titled "Traces of the Past in Cypriot Homes-2". Artist Leyla Çınar Algül's exhibition will be launched by EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Necdet Osam. The exhibition will be open for visitors between 09:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. until the 30th of March 2018.

A Book Reading Event will be Taking Place

Within the scope of the 54th Library Week a book reading event will be taking place at Özay Oral Library yard between 11:30 and 12:00 on the 28th of March 2018. The 7th annual book reading event organized by the Turkish Librarians Association will be concurrently taking place for half an hour in Turkey and the TRNC. The said event will be attended by İskele Şehit İlker Karter Primary School students. Finally, the Cyprus Turkish Librarians Association President and Board Members will be visiting EMU Rector Prof. Dr. Necdet Osam in his office at 14:30 on Wednesday, the 28th March 2018. During the visit they will provide Rector Prof. Dr. Osam information about the work they are carrying out and their activities. At the end of the visit, Prof.

Dr. Osam will be presented a plaque of appreciation for his interest in and contributions to librarians in the country.

"We are Internationally Recognised"

EMU Özay Oral Library Director Osman Soykan released a statement regarding the 54th Library Week in which he indicated: "Societies which see science and knowledge as a guide are continually developing in the fields of science and technology. This development undeniably has a positive effect both on the level of intellect and the economic welfare of societies. University libraries are more about the organization of information and allowing users to reach information, than being places where information is physically stored. For this reason cooperation between libraries has become very important. The 54th Library Week is a significant event for EMU Özay Oral Library as it is important for all libraries. Our library is a library with one of the biggest academic collections on the island. It is also a library that has gained recognition in international consortiums."
